Dear Families,

School Catering Price Increase

I am writing to inform you that, after careful consideration, and with consultation with our catering company, abm catering, we have made the joint decision to increase the cost of school meals and the associated tariffs. This decision has not been taken lightly, and great care has been taken to reach a solution that remains cost effective for all students and staff.

We have seen unprecedented increases in food, fuel and labour costs and although we have worked tirelessly with our suppliers to minimise the cost pact we can no longer sustain the current tariff. We understand that in the current economic climate any additional expenses will have an impact to family life, and we have worked closely with our catering provider, ABM, to minimise the impact of the tariff increase to families, particularly the price of the Meal Deal.

We have held our price for school meals at Hodge Hill College very successfully for a few years now but cost pressures mean that this will increase to £2.60. A wider tariff has been attached for your information which will take effect across the School from 19th February 2024.

Kind Regards

Hodge Hill College & ABM Catering
